S. district judge that if any conspiracy related to military interference in Lower California existed, as charged, it was not against the government of Lower California, but against Esteban Cantu, who had seized control in Lower California by force of arms.

Former mayor Tom Lea received a telegram Tuesday morning from Los Angeles, Calif., saying that Harry Chandler, assistant general manager of the Times there; H. K. SANDS JURY, OUT SINCE SATURDAY, STILL SILENT

Until after noon Tuesday there was no indication of a verdict in the case of ranger W. B. Sands, charged with murder in connection with the killing of Sergt. Owen Biernie in the Coney Island saloon on September 21, 1916.

The jury was given to the jury Saturday afternoon.

It was rumored Tuesday that the jurors are as far from a verdict as ever; and that since the early baling the are divided nine to three, but whether for conviction or acquittal is not known.

It is believed that unless they reach a verdict by Wednesday morning they will be dismissed by Judge W. D. Howe, in whose court the case was tried. Sands was at the court house Tuesday morning. He appeared confident of a successful outcome of the case.
